RECALLS WAR OF GENERATION AGO

It is a little more than 15 years ago that the British landed troops in South Africa to cope with the uprising of the Boers. The event occurred on May 29th, according to H. E. Lea, of the West End force, who at that time was engaged as master mechanic for the General Electric Light and Power company at Germantown, eight miles from Johannesburg. Mr. Lea likened the situation to that of the present movement of American troops across the sea, for the Boers always derided the talk of bringing troops from either England or any of its dependencies, as they always asserted that no large body of men could be transported such a long distance and communications maintained. Developments demonstrated that the handicap of distance was easily overcome.

MILLER IS GRANDPA

A. Grant Miller passed the cigars around the court house this morning and then explained that the cause of his benevolent feeling was the fact that he has been a grandfather since Saturday evening, says the Reno Gazette. His daughter, Mrs. Harry B. Foulkes, presented her husband with an eight-pound baby girl. Mother and child are getting along nicely.

RUN OUT OF CAMP BY PATRIOTIC MEN OF THE TYBO MINE

Carl Mueller, formerly employed at Tybo, is in town looking around for a lawyer to take his case against somebody. Mueller thinks he has been grievously wronged by his late associates among the employees of the Louisiana Consolidated Mining company and would like to have the advice of a lawyer to help him out of the dilemma of trying to recover damages or else have the satisfaction of charging the bunch with assault and battery. Whatever may happen it is safe to venture that Mr. Mueller will not find any attorney willing to assume his case, which is alleged to be one of open and notorious sedition, according to the statements of men from Tybo.

Mueller is an Austrian who does not hesitate to conceal his profound contempt for everything American and that is how he got in bad at Tybo. The other boys all subscribed one shift's pay to the Red Cross and when it came to Mueller's turn to put down his name he refused point blank, accompanying the refusal with remarks that so incensed the mine force that they went over the top in great shape, landing on Mueller in a dozen places with such rapidity that he was given a good and forcible illustration of a dose of shrapnel. When he emerged from the melee he presented a pair of optics beautifully discolored and also had several other bruises that gave him some physical pain. He did not have much time to deliberate for a committee of the men notified him to make himself scarce by getting out of Tybo as quickly as his legs would permit.

Mueller landed here last evening and instantly proceeded to the office of a leading attorney, where he failed to find any satisfaction.

SCHOOL CLOSES WITH EXERCISES

The graduates of the high school will receive their diplomas this evening in the school gymnasium and the teachers and pupils would like to have a full attendance of friends and parents. In some manner it was reported that the exercises were limited to those receiving invitations, but the faculty and graduating class say there is no reason for this mistake preventing any one from attending as it has always been the aim of the school trustees to extend a general invitation to every one who has the interest and welfare of the rising generation at heart to share in the entertainment. The following program will be presented:

"Alita" (Wild Flower), F. H. Losey, High School orchestra; Invocation, Rev. H. L. Grafton; music—(a) "December Morn," Lincoln; (b) "A Letter from the Front," Fischer, Mandolin club; commencement address, "Nevada—an Appreciation and a Challenge," President Walter E. Clark of the state university; "Leaves of Spring," Chas. A. Stickney; High School orchestra; presentation of diplomas, T. J. Lynch, clerk of the board; benediction, Rev. H. L. Grafton.

SPECIAL NOTICE

NuBone corsets are economical; they give extraordinary long wear; it has a stay that will not rust, break or lose its supporting power. The garment will not lose its shape. They will outwear two ordinary corsets and are moderate in price, therefore doubly economical. NuBone corsets are always accompanied by a written guarantee. If a stay breaks or rusts within one year a new one will be given free of charge. NuBone corsets give you style and grace that can be found in no other corset. They are made to your measure, therefore fit perfectly. Orders taken on Cross ave., between St. Patrick and Erie Main. AdvJ1

CANNOT SUPPLY GROWING DEMAND FROM EUROPE FOR BASE BALLS

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, June 4.—The presence of large numbers of American and Canadian soldiers abroad has caused such an unprecedented demand throughout England for all kinds of baseball supplies that it is almost impossible to satisfy the constantly increasing requests from training camps and stations for balls, bats, masks, gloves, and protectors.

It is estimated by sporting authorities that there will be a demand for baseball equipment during the present season to outfit 2000 teams, and all of it must be exported from New York.

A special report to the department of commerce from Vice Consul Stewart S. Hayes at London states that the demand for athletic equipment in England has been decreased since the war began about 60 per cent on all goods except footballs, boxing gloves and baseball paraphernalia.

The supply of baseball equipment has at all times been less than the demand, which foreign dealers sought to meet by importations, but, being unable to gauge the market, they continued to order in insufficient quantities until the restriction of imports made it impossible to do so. The supply of baseball equipment has at all times been less than the demand, which foreign dealers sought to meet by importations, but, being unable to gauge the market, they continued to order in insufficient quantities until the restriction of imports made it impossible to do so.

The district attorney presented his side, setting forth that the case would depend entirely on circumstantial evidence.

After lunch, G. M. Cahill and Clarence E. Waldner, for the state, gave testimony.

"Flapdoodle" Universal.

Roosters have used it simply and ingeniously, but by mankind it has been raised almost to the level of an art and it has been extensively used from long before the days of Solomon for purposes of evasion, promotion, argument and self-advancement. There is scarcely a department of human activity that is free from it. It is a rhetorical device that is liberally and shamelessly used by the lover, the business man, the professional man, the society woman, the critic and the craftsman, and even the clergyman has been known to descend to its employment upon occasion. The routine evidences of flapdoodle in ordinary intercourse are monotonous, but in its most highly cultivated forms it is found in art, literature, criticism, politics and statecraft. It is the most common commodity in the world, and about the most serious.

Not All Love Silence.

Dr. A. A. Brill of New York tells of a musical genius who complained of insomnia, which he maintained to be due to street noises in the city and cricket and night calls in the country. Many persons who become hypersensitive to noises blame their troubles on the sounds. This very patient could listen with rapture to music and yet believe that noises kept him awake!

Some of the greatest apostles of silence have shown themselves in need of noise. For example, John Stuart Mill, who was an enemy of all noise, hired a boy, according to Doctor Brill, to beat a drum next to the room in which he worked in order to stimulate his thoughts.

Looking Through Axle.

The periscope, so efficient in trench and submarine warfare, now has a peep application, according to the Popular Science Monthly. It promises to avert many accidents resulting from defective locomotive axles. The axle is bored longitudinally, the size of the bore being ample to permit insertion of the periscope, which is about 40 inches long and 1 1/2 inches in diameter. At one end is a magnifying mirror upon which a light is thrown from the handle. Looking through the periscope, inspectors obtain a clear view of every part of the axle and are enabled to detect the flaws in the steel.

Play for Present-Day Authors.

In his "Books and Persons," Arnold Bennett says: "In the innermost Strand, where there are 40 tobacconists, 30 restaurants, half a dozen theaters, 17 necktie shops, there are only two establishments for the sale of new books. We travel for days and never see a single bookshop. Of course there are Franklin's and self-improving young persons who buy cheap editions of the classics, which the world will not willingly let die, but I am anxious to meet the man who will not willingly let die the author who is not yet dead."

ports made the obtaining of such goods extremely difficult.

At present, with the American army and navy forces in England, the demand has reached proportions that cannot be satisfied without large supplies being shipped from the United States. The books of a large London sports store indicate the increase for baseball equipment since 1914. In 1915 the approximate value of baseball imports was $10,000, in 1916, $30,000, in 1917, $40,000, and in 1918, to date, $57,500.

On the other hand, the demand for cricket, tennis and golf equipment has decreased as much as 60 per cent and more. It is not believed that this indicates any permanent loss of favor of these sports, but it is due to the fact that they require special playing fields difficult to obtain, while an impromptu game of baseball may be organized at a moment's notice. The age limit of the British army was set at 41 years in April, 1916, with the prospect of being raised to 50, so that every able-bodied man is engaged in some work of such national importance that he has no time for the widely-popular sports of peace times.

JURY IN THE BOX TO TRY HOMICIDE

A few minutes before noon this morning the jury in the Kruger case was accepted after the attorneys for either side had used only four of their peremptory challenges, although they were entitled to eight. Only two women were called and one of these was accepted, the other, Mrs. Ruby Dewar, being excused on the ground that she is about to leave the city and had all arrangements made. The second (alternative), Mrs. Blanche Mitchell, proved acceptable. The jury stands as follows: J. R. Jones, W. H. Wing, Al. Vincent, James E. Hays, Charles Fottler, Louis Leager, Francis M. Wall, Gill Bennett, S. S. May, J. A. Carpenter, Mrs. Blanche Mitchell and Martin Evenson.

The district attorney presented his side, setting forth that the case would depend entirely on circumstantial evidence.

MRS. T. F. M. FITZGERALD is a patient at the Mine Operators hospital for a slight indisposition.

H. R. COOKE, the attorney, was a passenger this morning for San Francisco and may go as far as Seattle before returning.

C. J. KANROHAT, the veteran mine operator from Jefferson Canyon, arrived today on No. 24, after spending some time on the coast.

MISS ELIZABETH ANDERSON is the guest of Mrs. Percy Pollock on an auto trip to Los Angeles. The ladies expect to remain on the coast only a short time.

WALTER E. CLARK, president of the University of Nevada, came in this morning to conduct the commencement exercises of the high school this evening.

CORPORAL WHITEHEAD, of Pershing's force, who was billed to speak here tomorrow, will not come as his engagement had to be cancelled owing to illness.

MISS ANNE MARTIN, the senatorial candidate, arrived from Reno this morning, and will continue on to Goldfield Thursday and thence to Las Vegas, Pioche and Ely.

C. H. RULISON, father of Dr. Rulison-Shipley, arrived this morning from his home at Reno and expects to remain several weeks renewing his acquaintance with the camp.

A. H. MAY, district commercial superintendent of the Western Union, arrived this morning intending to spend the day here looking over local business, but received a telegram recalling him to San Francisco. He left on train No. 23.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Miss Beatrice Thomas entertained at her home on South street last evening in honor of her fifteenth birthday. The evening was spent in music and games. Refreshments were served. The hostess received many pretty gifts. The guests were: Misses Celeste Osborne, Jessie Wadsworth, Thelma Climo, Lois McLeod, Dorothy Fottler, Anita Sullivan, Masters Frank Sullivan, Thomas Fitzgerald, Ogden Monahan, Earle Murphy, Lloyd Swasey and Theodore Fottler. All reported an enjoyable evening.

SOLDIER FURLOUGHED TO SHEAR ELY SHEEP

Private Ringer, who is stationed at Fort Douglas, Utah, and who is a professional sheep shearer, is here on a furlough to assist the Adams-McGill company in the shearing of their sheep, which has been delayed a few days on account of bad weather, says the Ely Record. Before entering the service Private Ringer followed the shearing of sheep occupation, and when the shearing season came around he asked for a furlough, in order that he might be of assistance to wool growers, as shearers are very scarce this year. The flockmasters are now paying 15 cents per head for shearing, and at that price a first-class man can make from $18 to $20 per day, which is quite a windfall to a regular who is drawing down only $30 a month. The furlough of Private Ringer is in line with the general plan of the war department to assist ranchers, farmers and others.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—President Konekamp of the telegraphers' union said today he would go to Chicago tomorrow to announce from there the strike decision. He said: "There will be no hurry about going out."

We appreciate the work already done, but the road commission should realize we cannot travel a line of stakes. Utah is now connecting our excellent road from the eastern state line, and we would like a road to send the travelers over to the west. How about it, Mr. Cottrill, and gentlemen of the road commission?

TUBERCULAR PATIENT DIES IN HOSPITAL

Paul Stelenovich, aged 32, and a native of Austria, died at the county hospital this morning about 11:30 o'clock after a lingering illness due to tubercular trouble. Deceased was employed in Tonopah mines for the last five years and previous to coming here had lived three years in the state. It is not known if he has any relatives in this part of the country. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 from the Catholic church.

AMUSEMENTS

CLARA KIMBALL YOUNG AT THE BUTLER

"Shirley Kaye," which will be the special attraction at the Butler today, is the second big production made by Clara Kimball Young and her own company, following the adaptation of "Magda," from the famous drama of the same name. It took no little courage for Miss Young to undertake the film creation of the title role in that play, for it has been made famous by such leading actresses as the immortal Duse, the "Divine Sarah" Bernhardt, and that sterling performer, Mrs. Patrick Campbell. Critics and film fans who have seen the production, however, insist that Miss Young, in her own sphere, need bow to none, for she imbued the difficult role with a vitality and a sympathy that fascinated all who saw the picture. In "Shirley Kaye" Miss Young again registers success—albeit her role here is one of a lighter touch, and shows her as the resourceful American girl who saves the family fortunes and wins herself a husband at the same time. It has been some time since Miss Young has been seen by a Tonopah audience, and her appearance here today is looked forward to with a great deal of pleasant anticipation. In addition to the feature, the second of the series of the Boy Scouts will be shown—a two-reel episode entitled "On the Trail."

Tomorrow, another popular screen favorite—Mae Marsh, in "All Woman," and the Pathe News with scenes taken on the battle front, and the first pictures of the great struggle in Picardy.

TONOPAH BUSINESS COLLEGE

Tonopah is to have an up-to-date business college on the second floor of the Lundee building, where all the advantages of the best city commercial schools will be brought within reach of the people of Tonopah.

Shorthand, typewriting, bookkeeping, penmanship, etc., will be taught by Prof. Archibald Dickson, who was principal of the commercial department of the University of Nevada summer school of 1917. Professor Dickson for three years also held the position as principal of the well-known Spencerian Commercial school of Cleveland, Ohio, and has successfully conducted business colleges under his own name, having now in his possession, for reference, lists of names of many student graduates who went out and satisfactorily filled excellent positions direct from their desks in school in Portland, Ore., and other western cities, including Reno, Nev. Mr. Navocovich of the Tonopah Banking corporation attended his business college while located in Reno.

FUNERAL OF MARTIN BRETT

A wire was received this morning from Atlantic City asking that the body of Martin Brett be shipped by express to that city, but it was deemed wise to advise the relatives that the cost would not be less than $185 for express charges alone and recommending that interment be held here. The undertaking is awaiting a reply.
